

Dear Hiring Team,

I'm writing to apply for the Senior Mobile Engineer role at Ringier Axel Springer Tech. Over 9 years as a Senior Android Engineer, I've architected systems from scratch, including a modular Clean Architecture for a real-time trading application at Halyk Bank and real-time hardware-to-app communication for Arlo's Camera UX 3.0 migration, work that closely mirrors the SDK design and integration challenges this role involves. My background in TDD (achieving ~100% code coverage at Arlo using MockK and Espresso), CI/CD workflow design, and Kotlin/Java codebase migrations reflects the engineering rigor and documentation discipline your SDK team requires. I've also led technical interviews and mentored developers at Vention and the Belarus Kotlin User Group, which has sharpened my ability to support external teams integrating a product I build. I'd welcome the opportunity to bring this combination of low-level architecture experience and cross-team collaboration to your mobile SDK platform.

Best regards,

Maksim Sukhotski
